

Contract extension student researcher:

The student researcher is informed by the office manager to sign the contract extension at the department's office. The student researcher signs the extension. If the extension is financed by a project-cost unit the contract extension is sent to the personnel department. Otherwise the document is sent to the deanship for further processing and then handed over to the personnel department. Copies of this contract extension are given to the office manager and the student researcher.