

Contract extension of staff member:

The professor writes a letter to the deanship. This letter is handed over to the president of the university. The president gives the personnel department order to extend the staff member's contract.