

How to find E-Books and E-Journals in TRiCAT

Last update: October 2024

Table of contents

- 1. Search for and access e-books in the catalog
- 2. Access to journals (print and electronic) via TRiCAT

1. e-book search in the catalogue

By searching in the TRiCAT you can find printed books as well as e-books, which you can also access from home.

First go to the online catalog TRiCAT and enter a search term or book title:

Go to the library website (https://www.uni-trier.de/bibliothek), then follow the link to TRiCAT.

To narrow the search results to e-books, you can select "Available Online" in the facets on the left side

On campus: Simply go to online access and start reading! From home: Activate VPN full client and access title in TRiCAT

In case of problems please consult our checklist: Bibliothek > A - Z > C > Checkliste für den Zugriff auf elektronische Medien

Access from home is also possible via DBIS:

Go to the library's homepage, then to \rightarrow Datenbanken (DBIS) \rightarrow collections \rightarrow E-Book-Portale

2. Access to journals (printed and electronic) via TRiCAT

- From home: Connect to the university network! Best via VPN full tunnel. Access via VPN is only possible for university members.
- For installation please follow the instructions of the ZIMK:
- VPN access to the university network
- Access TRiCAT via the homepage of the university library first. In the "Catalog" you can only search for the journal title you can't search for the contents of the journal and individual articles! This is only possible in a further step, provided that the journal is also available online in the library.

First go to the online catalogue TRiCAT and search for the journal title:

Go to the homepage of the university library (https://www.uni-trier.de/bibliothek) and follow the link to the TRiCAT

Enter the search term and click on the magnifying glass symbol -> Then follow the link to the versions overview

Electronic journals: The EZB's traffic light system indicates the degree of availability. In the example below, all articles from 1960 onward are available through the University Library's licenses, hence the traffic light is yellow. A green traffic light would mean open access for all, a red one no access possible.
