

Info for Exchange Students not Completing Classes in Trier

Welcome to Trier, Germany's oldest city and home to a beautiful campus university. For students here on exchange but not completing classes (e.g., those working on their master's thesis), we'd like to let you know of a few ways to get involved and meet people on campus.

- 1) Meet your Trier thesis advisor! Try to reach out in the first few weeks and set up a schedule of meetings with them.
- 2) E-mail the Fachschaftsrat Anglistik (fsrangl@uni-trier.de). This is our department's student council, and they will help connect you with a fellow student on campus (another master's level student) who can be your buddy.
- 3) Meet fellow English-studies student at the Stammtisch, held every two weeks during the semester. Have drinks and socialize with us! Find out when it is by either following the FSR or Anglistik (or both!) on Instagram: @fsrangl_unitrier // @anglistikunitrier
- 4) Check out the IZ (Internationales Zentrum) in Trier. They do a lot of activities for foreign and German students. Their website is: <https://www.uni-trier.de/international/internationales-zentrum/willkommen>. You can also find them on Instagram: @iz_unitrier
- 5) Take a class for fun. Check out our course offerings in PORTA. You can search for classes like Ling 701, Ling 702, Ling 703, Ling 801, Ling 802, or Ling 803. These are the MA-level seminars. Reach out to the instructors to ask to be admitted.

We wish you a wonderful, productive time in Trier!
