

ZKS Visiting Professor Chris Lee

The Centre for Canadian Studies (ZKS) at Trier University is delighted to announce that Prof. Chris Lee acts as ZKS Visiting Professor in the summer term 2023.

Chris Lee is Director of the Asian Canadian and Asian Migration Studies Program and Associate Professor in the Department of English Language and Literatures at the University of British Columbia, Vancouver. His current research focuses on historical narratives of Chinese migration to Canada, racial capitalism and Asian migrations, histories of Asian Canadian cultural activism, and diaspora Chinese literary thought during the Cold War. He received a Killam Research Prize in 2015.

Chris Lee offers two seminars for master students of English: Narrating Asian Families in North America (starting in June) and Asian Canadian Literature and Culture (together with Prof. Ralf Hertel).

If you would like to connect with Prof. Chris Lee, or would like to join his seminar on Narrating Asian Families in June, please see contact below.
