

Configuring the Present across Arts and Media
A symposium focusing on innovation in contemporary arts and their dialogue with the past

University of Trier, 28-30 October, 2010

ACADEMIC PROGRAMME

For more information see <http://www.asap.uni-trier.de/>

Unless otherwise stated, symposium events are in Room A 9/10, Gebäude A (Building A)

Thursday, 28 October 2010

11.15-13.00

Neo-Victorianism I

Dietmar Böhnke (Leipzig University): (Re)Fashioning the Neo-Victorian Canon: An Interim Assessment

Brian McHale (The Ohio State University): "Things then did not delay in turning curious": Some Versions of Alice, 1966-2010

Eckart Voigts-Virchow (University of Siegen): Bio-Fiction: Neovictorian Revisions of Genetics and Evolution: The Cases of Darwin and Mendel

14.00-15.45

Innovation and the Future in Fictional Discourse across Media

Maria Engberg (Bleking Institute of Technology): Polyaesthetics in Digital Literary Arts: Steve Tomasula's TOC and Multi-Media Fiction

Alexa Weik von Mossner (University of Fribourg): Looking Back to the Present: The Future History of Climate Change in Franny Armstrong's The Age of Stupid.

Heather J Hicks (Villanova University): The Postmodern Post-Apocalypse

16.15-18.00

Experimental Form in Contemporary Narrative: Fiction and Television

Brian Richardson (University of Maryland): No End: Unnatural Endings in Contemporary Literature"

Robyn Warhol-Down (The Ohio State University): "You Know They Know": Realist Narration in The Office

James Phelan (The Ohio State University): Assessing the Contemporary Novel: The Case of Franzen's Freedom

19.30: Formal Opening of the Symposium, Hörsaal 10, Gebäude E (Building E)

Peter Schwenkmezger, President of the University of Trier
Brian McHale, The Ohio State University, President of ASAP
Hilary Dannenberg, University of Trier

Followed by:

Presentation by Jürgen Meier (Architect and Light Artist, Leipzig):

The Art of Light: Commemorating East Germany's Peaceful Revolution in The Leipzig Light Festivals of 2009 and 2010

For more information see:

<http://www.leipzig.de/de/buerger/newsarchiv/2010/40000-Besucher-beim-Lichtfest-2010-in-Leipzig-18114.shtml>

http://www.juergenmeier.de/JuergenMeier/Projekte/Eintr%C3%A4ge/2009/10/9_Lichtfest_09.html

Friday, 29 October 2010

9.00-10.15

Neo-Victorianism II

Elizabeth Ho (Ursinus College): Neo-Victorianism at Sea: Towards a Global Memory of "the Victorian"

Amy J Elias (University of Tennessee): The Politics of Steampunk: Time/Space in Pynchon's Against the Day

10.45-12.30

Conversations between the Discourses of the Present: Criticism, Ecology, Poetry and Architecture

Jeffrey Di Leo (University of Houston at Victoria): Criminal Editors and the Critical Present

Peter Howarth (Queen Mary, University of London): Poetic Form and Ecological Place in Contemporary British Poetry

Yasmine Shamma (University of Oxford): "All I Want is a Room Up There": Conversations between Poetry and Architecture

14.00-15.15

Innovative Dialogue with the Past in Digital Media and Fiction

Jay Clayton (Vanderbilt University): Faerie Queene Online: Augmented Reality and Storyworlds

Jürgen Ronthaler (University of Leipzig): Scandalizing Shakespeare: Re-Presenting the 'Bard' in Contemporary Popular Fiction

15.45-17.30

Contemporary Fiction between Past and Future

Amir Eshel (Stanford University): Hannah Arendt's Politics and Poetics of Insertion

Joel Burges (MIT): Suddenly, September 11th: The Contemporary Novel, Hannah Arendt, and the Big Bang Theory of 9/11

Michael Benveniste (Stanford University): Getting over Magical History: Fatalism and Idealist History in Junot Diaz's The Brief Wondrous Life of Oscar Wao

20.15: Special showing of Mieke Bal and Michelle Williams Gamaker's film Mère Folle (a psychological drama and theoretical fiction) at the Broadway Cinema, Paulinstraße 18, Trier (tickets: €5)

For more information see:

<http://www.crazymothermovie.com/>

<http://www.uni-trier.de/index.php?id=36003>

Saturday, 30 October 2010

9.00-10.30:

Presentation by Mieke Bal (ASCA, University of Amsterdam) and Michelle Williams Gamaker (Artist, PhD candidate, Goldsmiths College, University of London) on their collaboration on Mère Folle and previous film projects

11.00-12.45:

Formalist Futures: Reading Twenty-First Century US Fiction

Joe Brooker (Birkbeck, University of London): Is Fat a Formalist Issue? Lorrie Moore and the Question of Scale

Andrew Hoberek (University of Missouri-Columbia): Cormac McCarthy and the Aesthetics of Exhaustion

David James (University of Nottingham): A Renaissance for the Crystalline Novel

13.45-15.30

Contemporary Cultural Identities in Film and Television

Hilary Dannenberg (University of Trier): Restorative Nostalgia and its Counter-Narratives in British Television Texts

Anna Linetsky (University of Trier): Revealing History's Unstable Letter: Jewish Identity in Contemporary Film

Aparna Bhar (University of Trier): Constraints and Opportunities of the Genre: Changing Gender Roles and Sexuality of Muslim Characters in British Soap Opera

Programme version: 22 October 2010