

Cultural Economics and Finance Conference

June 20–21, 2020 on the internet (using Zoom)

Cultural differences and their impact on economics and finance are a topic of growing importance in our globalized world. This conference will bring together internationally leading researchers to present the most recent results in this field.

Topics include: cultural differences in economic and financial preferences as well as in financial markets, transmission of cultural norms and transitions of economic decision making.

Keynote Lectures:

Elke U. Weber (Princeton University),
Luigi Guiso (EIEF, Rome).

There will be a special session on China and Europe, featuring a panel discussion with Michael Kahn-Ackermann (Mercator Foundation, Beijing), Sebastian Heilmann (University of Trier) and Mei Wang (WHU – Otto-Beisheim School of Management).

The conference is free of charge. Conference homepage: cef.uni-trier.de

Important Dates:

- Deadline for submission of papers or extended abstracts (PDF):

Extended to April 15, 2020

- Notification of acceptance: April 20, 2020
- Conference registration deadline: June 5, 2020

Main organizers:

Prof. Thorsten Hens,
University of Zurich and NHH Bergen

Prof. Marc Oliver Rieger,
University of Trier

Local organizers:

Dr. Lea Shih, University of Trier
Eugenia Bartel, University of Trier

Cultures in Transitions
in East Asia and Europe
Research cluster at the University of Trier

University of
Zurich ^{UZH}