

In order to prepare our law students for the increasing global aspects of professional life the Trier University Law School has introduced since 1989 a large International Legal Studies Program. Currently we are looking for our Anglo-American Law section for a

Part-time Lecturer
(2-6 hours per week /evenings classes possible)

to teach the courses English or US Legal System and/or Contract Law.
The language of the lectures is English, so we are looking for a native speaker who holds a law degree from a common law jurisdiction. You do not need to speak German.
We are flexible in organising course hours as well in the evenings if this is more convenient for you.

For more information or if you wish to send your CV please contact: Dr. Ute Goergen; Head of International Legal Studies, email: goergenu@uni-trier.de.
