

International Workshop for Early Career Researchers

Low-carbon regional and urban transitions and practices

Application deadline:

30 September 2023

The Sustainability Transitions Lab at Trier University invites early career researchers (ECRs) to an interdisciplinary workshop.

15-17 November 2023, Trier University, Campus II

Apply if you are an ECR at the master, PhD, or postdoc level, and working on

- low-carbon transitions or practices,
- climate change mitigation or adaptation strategies,
- alternative approaches to local, urban,
and regional development.

We envision an open forum with interdisciplinary dialogue featuring

- short interventions such as elevator pitches,
- paper discussions with an upfront reading of the article,
- oral presentations, moderated discussions, and
- any other creative format.
