

Want to join the race?

Internship

Zürich, Zurich | Full Time

At TRIQ we are looking for an intern who is inquisitive and passionate about mobile apps that users love. You will be actively involved in designing a revolutionary app for endurance athletes as well as being part of our voice. We are always on the lookout for motivated young talent with creativity and a knack for good writing to continue our success story.

Essential Duties and Responsibilities

- You create different text forms in multiple areas
- You carry out SEO researches
- You create and post social media posts including community management
- you coordinate with our service providers (such as agencies and publishers, e.g. for previews, new features etc.)
- You create reports and presentations
- You are responsible for content maintenance and are going to get familiar with our content management system

Qualifications

- You are studying journalism, literature studies, media or communication sciences or a comparable course of study
- First experience in the field of digital content creation is a plus
- First experience in the field of SEO or interest in search engine optimisation and its mechanisms is a plus
- you have strong formulation skills and a very good feeling for language
- you have great knowledge of English spelling and grammar
- you are independent, and used to a structured way of working
- you are fast and accurate
- you like the speed of online editorial offices

Benefits

- Work with an international and very dedicated team
- Enjoy flexible working hours
- Competitive salary
- Beautiful location at Zürich Seefeld (2-min. proximity to Zürich Lake with the possibility of swimming)
- Shower availability at the office
- A company culture comprised of positive psychology that promotes the care of each other
- Respect for work-life balance