

Luca's new spark

Luca is a really sporty girl - sports are her life. She loves playing soccer and it has always been her dream to become a professional soccer player. She always wears her lucky special headband, adding a new detail to it every time she wins a game. One rainy autumn day, Luca was racing her bike to soccer practice. Suddenly, her bike slipped on some leaves, and she fell hard, breaking her leg. The doctor told her it would take a few months for her to heal and warned that she might not be able to play as well as she did before. This news crushed her dream. While Luca was bedridden, her friends and family supported her wholeheartedly. Everyone visited her and signed her cast, gave her presents and spent time with her. As time passed, Luca began to miss her everyday life before the accident. Looking at her lucky special headband, she realizes she no longer felt like herself without playing soccer. One day, Luca's mother surprised her with a little gift: a crafting kit for making jewellery. Her mother had thought about Luca's love for decorating her lucky special headband. Though sceptical at first, Luca decided to give it a try. Luca began making necklaces and charm bracelets for herself, her family and her friends. Before long, she couldn't stop and came up with an amazing idea. She looked at her lucky special headband, which lays in the corner of her room and decided to make even more beautiful lucky special headbands for all her teammates. She spent hours working on them, and each little pin or detail she added made her feel a little better! On that day, of the most important game of the season, Luca brought all the lucky special headbands to give to her teammates after the game. Luca was there as a viewer of the game. Sadly, the game wasn't going well, and the team felt defeated. Suddenly, Luca had a brilliant idea. During the break, she joined her teammates in the changing room and handed them the lucky special headbands, as a lucky charm. Motivated more than ever, the team ran back onto the field wearing Luca's special lucky headbands. Everyone in the audience was impressed by Luca's creativity and team spirit. This experience shows Luca she was more than just an athlete. As she looked at her lucky special headband, she realised that while she would always love soccer she was also a girl that loved crafting and sharing her creations with others. Luca smiled, proud to have discovered a new, equally special side of herself. Once Luca's leg fully healed, she returned to soccer practice with a fresh perspective. Soccer was now just a hobby, not a quest to be the best. She played soccer for fun and crafted for joy. Luca discovered that happiness wasn't about being the best - it was about doing what she loved!
