1.1 Application process for exchange students

Online Application Procedure

Students are required to apply online through the online application portal. The application process begins:

- ▶ in April/early May for the following winter semester
- ▶ in November for the following summer semester

Current information regarding applications can be found here.

The application forms

The following three application forms are available through the online application portal/website from the beginning of the application process:

1. The application form for exchange students

You may only study at Trier University once you have been officially admitted to pursue a course of study. In order for Trier University's Admissions Office to be able to issue an admission letter, you must first apply online. After submitting your application online, you must send it by email to the IO once it has been signed by yourself and your programme coordinator at your home university.

A signed copy of your application must reach us by 1 June for the following winter semester and 15 December for the following summer semester.

Your application form is only valid if your home university has confirmed your nomination by signing and stamping your application form.

2. Orientation programme

Each semester, in the one-and-a-half weeks before the start of the lecture period, the IO organizes a free orientation programme.

It offers a variety of events which help international students get to know the university and make settling to life in Trier easier.

Participation in the orientation programme is mandatory, you therefore do not need to apply for it.

Information about the content and set-up of the orientation programme can be found in section "3. Your first weeks in Trier - After Arrival".

3. The application form for allocation of accommodation through the IO

For students arriving from abroad shortly before the start of the lecture period, it might not be easy to find a room on the housing market.

The IO has therefore a limited number of rooms available for international students in the student halls of residence, which are owned by Trier Student Services. The monthly room rent currently ranges from 360 to 420 Euros. In addition, a deposit of 600 Euros needs to be paid as well per room.

We can only offer you a room in the halls of residence if you complete and send us the "accommodation application" form together with your "application for admission to study" form. Rooms are offered on a first-come first-served basis!

The deposit will be returned at the end of tenancy provided the room is left in an appropriate state according to the terms of the contract.

udierendenwerk Trier"

Student residence "Kleeburger Weg" of the "Studierendenwerk Trier"

Exchange students can be provided with a room in the student residences of the "Studierendenwerk Trier" solely through the IO. Applications made directly to Trier Student Services will be unsuccessful and are, therefore, pointless!

The allocation of rooms in the halls of residence takes place in June for the following winter semester, and in January for the following summer semester. The date of receipt of your accommodation application is decisive for the allocation of rooms.

This means, the earlier you send your application, the better chance you have of getting a room in one of the halls of residence. All students to whom the IO is able to offer accommodation in a student residence will receive an email containing all the relevant information about their room.

If the IO cannot offer you a room due to an exhausted room quota, you will also be informed by email. Although we cannot offer you accommodation, we will provide you with information about alternative accommodation options in Trier, but you are ultimately responsible for searching for somewhere to live yourself.

Exchange students who wish to rent privately (for example, in order to share with German students) are also responsible for finding a room themselves. The IO does not provide any private accommodation!

More information regarding visa regulations:

- > Visa information
- > Visa regulations

1.2 Entry and visa requirements

Depending on your citizenship, you may require a visa to enter the Federal Republic of Germany (Bundesrepublik Deutschland - BRD). Please consult a German diplomatic agency or consular post in your home country on entry and residence regulations. Please start the procedure as early as possible!

- Information on entering Germany and Visa
- ► Websites of German Embassies

International students and applicants who are citizens of any of the following countries do not require a visa to enter Germany: European Union member states, Iceland, Norway, Switzerland, Australia, Brazil, Israel, Japan, Canada, Southkorea, New Zealand and the USA. They may still need to apply for a residence permit, once in Germany.

Applicants from other countries: Please check the visa regulations at:

www.auswaertiges-amt.de/en

Please note that a tourist visa does not entitle you to study in Germany and a tourist visa cannot be converted into a study visa after entering the country!

1.3 Health insurance

For your study abroad stay at Trier University you must have sufficient health insurance coverage to be eligible for enrolment. Please make sure which one of the following options A-D applies to you.

- A If for whatever reasons you have German statutory health insurance valid for the whole duration of your stay: perfect!
- If you have a valid (valid until the end of your stay in Trier!!!) European Health Insurance Card (EHIC or GHIC): perfect!

- However, if you do not have health insurance coverage according to the first three groups then please absolutely pay attention to what follows:

Private or statutory health insurance from your home country will not be approved. You will have to purchase a German health insurance plan before arriving in Trier! See information on website.

Please find detailed information on your health insurance options on the website!

For your stay in Trier you should budget at least 992 Euros per month. At the beginning of your stay, you will also have to allow for a few one-off expenses. On top of this is as well approx. 376 Euros in social fees*, which are to be paid when enrolling. The highest expenses are due to rent, health insurance and cost of food. # Arrival

2.1 Travelling to Trier

Travelling by plane and train

There are different options of reaching Trier. For example, there are several airports in the vicinity of Trier:

- Frankfurt (Main) (approx. 3h 30min to Trier)
- Luxemburg (approx. 1h 30min to Trier)
- → Köln/Bonn (approx. 3h 30min to Trier)

We recommend those three airports if you arrive from North or South America, Asia, Oceania, or Africa. For shorter distance, e.g. from a European country, you may also use the smaller airports "Saarbrücken" or "Frankfurt Hahn".

From Luxembourg airport there is a bus connection to Trier main station. From Frankfurt and Cologne-Bonn airport you can travel by train to Trier main station.

More information:

https://www.uni-trier.de/en/international/coming-to-trier/exchange-students/arrival-to-trier

There are no direct train connections from the train station Cologne-Bonn airport and Frankfurt/Main airport to Trier main station. You must change at least once, depending on your connection.

Travelling by train

If you arrive from a European country by train, you can also find the train connections on the Deutsche Bahn homepage or on the homepage of the railway company of your home country.

- You can book tickets or look up information about e.g. delays via the App "DB Navigator" from the German Railway (Deutsche Bahn) (recommended!)

Travelling by remote bus

Further information: www.flixbus.de

Travelling by car

For students from Belgium, France, the Netherlands, and Luxembourg, making the trip using your own car may be a favourable option. Here you can find overview maps.

Please plan your route beforehand.

2.2. Arriving in Trier

Arriving in Trier you should normally go directly to your accommodation.

If you are allocated a room in student halls of residence by the IO, you can pick up your keys from that hall's janitor at a prearranged time. Afterwards, you need to register with the International Office on campus.

How to get to Trier University

There are many bus routes running between the main station/inner city and Campus I and II of Trier University.

Most important bus routes to Campus I (via Trier Central Station):

Train connections in the region

Studying at Trier University

4.1 Trier University

Trier has a long tradition as a university city. The original University was founded in 1473 before being forced to close in 1798. It was then re-established in 1970. Today, it is home to around 11,000 students, of which 13% are international students.

Geographically, the University looks down from its position on the Tarforst mountainside on the Moselle valley and also the city of Trier.

Connections between the University and city are very regular, with buses running throughout the day (on workdays, every 10 minutes, with the journey taking 15 to 20 minutes) and in the evening.

Trier University is a campus university, meaning that all of its buildings and facilities are concentrated in a relatively small area and are easily accessible by foot. The main campus (Campus I) and Campus II are situated about ten minutes walk from each other and there is also a shuttle bus between the two.

The buildings on Campus I are surrounded by landscaped parkland and lakes, with sport, leisure and shopping facilities all available nearby. Campus II also has its share of greenery and borders onto Trier's science and technology park.

4.2. The academic year

The academic year is divided into two semesters: the winter semester (WS), which runs from the 1st October to the 31st March and the summer semester (SS), running from the 1st April until the 30th September. The lecture period for the winter semester starts around mid-October and finishes mid-February, lasting about 15 weeks. For the summer semester, the lecture period starts mid-April, finishes mid-July and lasts about 14 weeks.

Exams (both written and oral) for exchange programme students usually take place in the last two weeks of the lecture period. You must agree the exact exam dates with the lecturers for your courses once in Trier.

No courses take place from mid-July until mid-October or from mid-February until mid-April (This time is called "vorlesungsfreie Zeit").

Trier University is subdivided into six faculties and an additional theological faculty. Each faculty is then assigned a range of departments. Within each department, there are several different study programmes, e.g. Bachelor and Master programmes.

Faculty I:

Education, Philosophy, Psychology, Nursing Science

Faculty II:

English Studies, German Language and Literature (with German as a Foreign Language), Japanese Studies, Classics (Latin and Greek), Computational Linguistics and Digital Humanities, Media Studies, Phonetics, Romance Studies, Slavonic Studies, Chinese Studies

Faculty III:

Egyptology, History, Classical Archeology, Art History, Papyrology, Political Science

Faculty V:

Law

Faculty IV:

Economics, National Economics, Social Sciences, Mathematics, Computer Sciences

Faculty VI:

Spatial and Environmental Sciences, Geography, Geoscience

Theological Faculty:

Catholic Theology

You can find more information on the individual faculties and departments at www.uni-trier.de/studium/studienangebot/studienfaecher

The departments of Geography, Geoscience, Computer Sciences and Business Information Systems are based on Campus II, the faculty of Catholic Theology is located in the E-building and downtown Trier. All other departments are found on Campus I.

In your admission letter you will be informed of the departments to which you have been admitted. You may participate in the courses offered by these departments. Yet, if places are available and if you meet the qualifications, you may also have the opportunity to take part in courses on offer in other departments, which are not stated in your admission letter. Please bear in mind, however, that you are not necessarily entitled to attend master's courses if you have only been admitted to the University to study for your bachelor degree.

4.4. Courses

There are three main types of courses offered:

- ▶ lecture
- seminar
- tutorial

In a lecture, the professor is the key player, presenting and discussing important information about the subject. The students play only a passive role as listeners, though they can, and even should, ask questions during or at the end of the lecture.

In a seminar, it is the students who take an active role. In the first session of the seminar, each student selects a topic from a list given by the lecturer (a professor or assistant lecturer). Students are to then research their selected topic from specific viewpoints and present it to the other participants in the seminar at a later date.

A tutorial generally deals with the content of the concurrent lectures, going through it more thoroughly. Active participation is expected from the participants. The tutorials are led by a lecturer who is a professor, an assistant lecturer or an advanced student.

For all three types of courses, a session usually lasts 90 minutes and takes place once a week. This counts as two weekly credit hours. There are, however, courses, which are comprised of four or more hours and take place several times a week.

Choice of courses

The course system at Trier University is based on modules in the individual subjects. These modules are basically offered annually and unchanged. As an international student you are allowed to select individual courses of modules. However, it is important to know that courses within the modules change again and again. For this reason, course plans from the past are NOT transferable, as courses at Trier University change every semester.

If possible, please prepare your Learning Aggreement (for ERASMUS students only) after the new course list has been published.

The online course list is published in mid-July for the winter semester and in mid-February for the summer semester.

The online course catalogue (PORTA) can be found in the course catalogue at www.porta-system.uni-trier.de

A list of the ECTS coordinators for the individual departments can be found here. They can help you with your course choice!

Module descriptions can be found at www.porta-system.unitrier.de under the "Show module descriptions" section

Choosing and registering for your courses

Please make sure to meet the recommended German language level (B1 German) or that English-taught courses are offered for the subject(s) you are going to study at Trier University! Please note that the vast majority of courses is offered in German only!

For this reason, please check the availability of courses in English at the department(s) of your choice early on. If necessary, contact the departmental coordinators (also called ECTS coordinators) for advice.

Certificates and ECTS-transcripts

The transcript of records (ToR) will be issued after the end of your stay. One transcript is issued per department (if you choose courses from several departments, you will receive several transcripts).

How to find courses on Porta (course catalogue)

Porta is the managment system of the University of Trier. Through Porta students can find and register for courses. Students do not need to be enrolled at the University of Trier to look up courses (to prepare course lists and Learning Agreements). This means that you-do not need to log in (or register in Porta yourself)!

How to sign up for courses

Once students are enrolled (shortly before or upon arrival at the University of Trier) and - in case of Erasmus students — their Learning Agreement is approved, they can sign up for courses. The login details for Porta will be send by email once enrolment is confirmed.

Click here for a guideline how to sign up for courses on Porta.

How to use Stud.IP

The University of Trier uses Stud.IP to organise courses and lectures. On Stud.IP students can view their courses and find information about them. For example, students can download required materials and find literature.

For a detailed guide on how to use Stud.IP click here.

ECTS Coordinators

Each faculty is divided into multiple departments with ECTS-Coordinators. These coordinators can support you to select courses and give you course information. Some departments offer specific information for incoming exchange students (click on "Information")

4.5. German as a Foreign Language courses

The language centre of Trier University offers up to 10 different German as a foreign language courses every semester. Courses are for free.

These courses are designed for different language levels and cover a variety of subject areas.

They range from intensive courses for students with little knowledge of German (beginner level A1, A2, "Anfängerstufe"), to intermediate courses (B1, B2, "Mittelstufe") and there are also specialised courses for students with advanced knowledge of German (C1, C2, "Oberstufe").

Every semester, you may take up to three language courses, depending on your knowledge of German. When applying for language courses, you can submit your preferences to the language centre.

However, it is your placement test result that ultimately decides which courses you may take. The placement test takes place during the orientation programme.

5.1 The city of Trier

The city of Trier, founded around 16 B.C. by the Romans as "Augusta Treverorum", looks back on a history of over 2.000 years and thus counts as the oldest German city.

Its long history can be seen and experienced first-hand, particularly thanks to the many architecturally interesting sites still standing since Roman times, the Middle Ages and the Renaissance. A total of eight of these architectural legacies are designated UNESCO sites of world cultural heritage.

The geographical significance of Trier can be viewed in a number of ways:

At a local level, Trier is the centre of one of the most famous and well-established wine growing regions in Germany. Seen nationally, Trier lies on the outskirts of Germany, in the most south-western corner and quite remote from the metropolises that are Berlin, Hamburg or Munich. Internationally, however, Trier is in the centre of Europe, in direct proximity to Luxembourg, France and Belgium.

Trier's long history, its significance as centre of the Moselle winegrowing region and its proximity to its European neighbours all make the city a popular tourist destination for visitors from all over the world.

With around 110,000 inhabitants, Trier is quite a small city so it does not take long to get to know your way around. The city centre has plenty of shopping centres, sports facilities, public amenities and civil authority offices, which are all within a short distance from each other.

What is Trier like? Things to know about Germany's oldest city

Trier with all its historic and multiple UNESCO World Heritage sights has a lot to offer culturally as well as historically. Besides those, Trier is a town full of life with many small shops, cafés and bars.

Roughly 20% of the cities population is made up of students, which has also shaped Triers cultural scene. Whether you want to join an interesting workshop at the Tuchfabrik, drinking some local "Viez" (apple wine) at a bar or visiting the remains of old roman history, there is a lot to do and discover after university.

Only an one-hour-ride away lies Luxembourg city, the capital of Luxembourg, which also has a lot to offer. It is a city with a beautuful old town, many specialty stores, museums and restaurants.
